

WORKING FOR LANDOWNERS SINCE 1894

National Cattlemen's
Beef Association

Advancing the business interests of its members is KLA's mission. Officers and staff work to achieve this goal day-in and day-out by working with legislators and regulatory agencies to advance KLA policy. While a large percentage of KLA's membership is composed of beef producers, the association's efforts benefit producers of a variety of ag commodities as well as those engaged in related industries. KLA invites landowners, farmers, agribusinesses and anyone else with a financial stake in Kansas agriculture to join us in our work on their behalf.

We've got your back.

- Protecting agricultural family legacies through estate tax relief.
- Leading the fight to secure use-value appraisal of ag land, ensuring you are taxed on the production value of your land, rather than on a speculative market value.
- Defending your property rights by repeatedly defeating proposals to allow public access to streams and rivers that pass through private property.
- Providing clarification and interpretation of Kansas' fence law for members.
- Resisting efforts to change definitions in the Clean Water Act.
